FINANCIAL.

There was only quietude and routine business to be found among the banks yesterday, with money in slightly improving request at August 8@10 per cent. per annum. Exchange was steady at par buying on New York and eastern, if premium selling; New Orleans id discount, selling at par; Fall River sight at par. The New York Bulletin, of Saturday, reported: "New York exchange was quoted reported: "New York exchange was quoted to-day as follows at the places named: Savannah—buying 3-16, selling 5-16; Charleston, comparatively easy, ½@3-16 premium, ½ premium. Cincinnati quiet and steady; buying, par; selling, 1-10. New Orleans—commercial par; bank, ½. St. Louis, 50 premium. Chicago, 60@80 premium." Gold in New York opened at 105½; here 104½@104½. The Bulletin says: "The foreign news, which is told most briefly by the decline in British consols from 94½ to 93½, had the effect of advancing the price of gold here to 105½, and also advancing the curhere to 105%, and also advancing the currency prices of United States bonds." In our local market nothing of moment was reported. There is inquiry for paving scrip for paying back taxes; brokers take it at 30 and interest.

The offerings, however, were very light, holders showing little disposition to put their cotion on the market, while they were exceedingly firm in their askings. The New York Bulletin, of Saturday, reported: "Buyers, as a rule, continue in a careful mood, with little inclination to move beyond actual necessities or orders in hard. Holders, however, retain a confident tone, and the general offering of or orders in hard. Holders, however, retain a confident tone, and the general offering of stock is moderate on all selections, with full former rates, in pretty much every instance, insisted upon and the position pretty firm. For future delivery there has been a quiet market, and not much of positive interest developed, except that the undertone does not appear quits strong. The 'bull' element has railed fairly to the support of values and prevented any serious break, and were assisted in their effort by the firm condition of spots, but he decrand was by no means stimulating and any great pressure would in all probability have sent figures. sure would in all proba ility have sent figures off along the entire lint. Buyers appear to find no inducement to the hold at present, especially as the Liverpo market has for a day or two been working a little by contra-ries, and have been turther given to caution the political advices from abroad and the adverse tone of consols." Captain J. N. Boffinger, of St. Louis, writing a series of thrilling war stories for the Times, of that city. A copy before us contains an account of the capture of the Gladiator by guerrillas, under Wild Tom, which occurred at Bledsoe's landing, a few miles below Memphis, in September, 1862. A friend at our elbow tells us that he was aboard the Giadiator on the occasion, and corroborates the chief features of the yarn, but says the historian fails to give all the in-teresting events which took place. Our friend says when the bullets began to per-forate the doors and windows of the cabin, the last he saw of Captain Boffinger he was on the starboard side of the texas, with a mattrass on his back, and remained there until the boat had swung out in the river, and the assaulting party had disappeared in the swamps. The captain's war stories are good reading, but he should.
